

Celebrate America's 250th birthday: Book these hotels for less than $250 this summer

As the U.S. gears up for its semiquincentennial (say that five times fast) birthday this summer, here at TPG, we're preparing to celebrate by hitting the road to discover every red, white and blue nook and cranny of our fine country.

In honor of America's 250th birthday, we found some amazing hotels from "sea to shining sea" that are getting in on the party with summertime rates starting at under $250 per night. Here are 10 hotels to add to your "America the Beautiful" itinerary this summer.

All rates are accurate for the summer months. Rates may be higher or lower outside of this timeframe.

Okana Resort & Indoor Water Park - Oklahoma City, Oklahoma

Okana Resort & Indoor Waterpark is home to a 404-room hotel, a 100,000 square foot indoor water park and an outdoor water park that boasts the fourth largest pool in the country. There are slides, pools and splash playgrounds for kids (and adults) of all ages.

Route 66 (celebrating its 100th birthday this year) runs straight through Oklahoma City, so to commemorate these complementary historic events, Okana is offering a special package for families looking to explore the Mother Road. When you book using the code "Route 66," you'll get up to 20% off your stay, a curated Route 66 Spotify playlist and a bundle of road trip essentials packed in a cute canvas tote.
