

THE OKLAHOMAN

From spooky popups to whiskey fests: OKC's best fall food events

The promise of slightly cooler temperatures after a stretch of record highs and extreme heat has many Oklahomans in the mood for sweater weather.

And while temperatures may not have dropped low enough to don your favorite cable knit just yet, Oklahoma's fall schedule is already filling up quickly.

Between football season and the Oklahoma State Fair, there's always fun to be had during an Oklahoma autumn. We've rounded up some of the best food and beverage centered fun happening this fall to help you plan where you'll be when you aren't drinking your weight in lemonade or yelling at the refs while cheering for your team.

OKANA extends lagoon and outdoor waterpark hours through Oct. 18

If you're not quite ready to let go of the summer, you're in luck. OKANA Resort & Indoor Waterpark, 639 First Americans Blvd., is extending the season by keeping its 4.5-acre outdoor waterpark open on Saturdays and Sundays through Oct. 18.

This choice extends access to OKANA's outdoor slides, cabanas and swim-up bar into fall, plus all of the resorts restaurants will also be available to make your visit just as delicious as it is fun. For more information or to book a stay or day pass, go online to okanaresort.com or call 572-228-4001.
